

Student Technology Use Agreement – Walden School

The use of technology tools at Walden School is a privilege, not a right. The privilege is given to those who act responsibly. Within reason, Walden School will honor personal privacy, freedom of speech and access to information. Administrators and staff reserve the right to review files and communications and remove inappropriate files.

Student Responsibilities

- I will treat others with respect. When communicating with others I will use appropriate language and images. I will not read, alter, or delete the files of other users. I will not reveal personal information about myself or others.
- I will treat equipment with respect, keep it in working order, keep food and drink away from the equipment, and conserve resources.
- I will not install software on school computers.
- I will follow federal and state laws.
- I will credit sources I use.
- I will use the school's technology tools only for educational purposes. I will access only resources that I have permission to use.
- I will notify an adult if I become aware of any technology problems or violations.
